Little Way Partnership staff training & time to reflect

On 6th November, while our children were having an additional day of half-term holidays, our staff were busy joining with other staff from our Partnership Catholic Schools. 230 staff from our schools collected together at St Peter's Primary School in Gloucester to learn together and from each other.

The staff had an opportunity to hear speakers talk about their own faith journey and we had time to reflect on ours too, learning to grow closer to God. We learnt about some lovely ways to help our children learn from the Gospels and we even took part in a twinning activity which created a Penpal Link between every class within our Partnership.

Each class has already started to learn about their twinned class in another school and we look forward to seeing how these relationships develop between our schools both this year and into the future. We can learn so much from each other and it's so important that our children know that our school is part of something much bigger within our Partnership.

Watch out for more information about how our schools are working together - coming soon!
